Dear Parents,

Re: Elgar Birthplace Visit

Further to Mrs Tedds' dojo message earlier this evening, I would just like to update you with my thoughts.

We are planning to go ahead with this visit tomorrow as we will essentially have the museum to ourselves since there are no other groups booked in. Should there be other members of the public that visit, we can work away from them and thus avoid any unnecessary "social contact." As Mrs Tedds informed you, we will be surprised if anyone is there but us. We will keep up with our more regular and rigorous handwashing and we have a separate, private room in which to eat and work.

With all that in mind, I believe that there is an acceptably low level of risk which is reflected in our risk assessment. I believe that this will be a very informative experience for our pupils and I know that it is central to the work that Mrs Tedds has planned.

If you are not happy for your child to take part in this visit we will, of course, educate them in school.

Yours sincerely,

Mr Bill
